Project introductie:

Over organisatie:

With the duo's immersive installations and sculptures DRIFT invites people to feel and re-connect with Nature. This nature experience starts on how to acknowledge the nature which surrounds us and what nature has to offer people, since we are all part of the system earth in so many ways which we are very often not even aware of. Nauta and Gordijn advocate for the development of human technology that can guide us through a meaningful and safe evolution. According to the artist duo the first step in this evolution is re-connecting to the earth systems, the earth's interacting physical, chemical, and biological processes.
